RESPONSE

Dear Sir:

This response is being filed in reply to the office action mailed September 22, 2006.
In that action, the Examiner requires restriction, under 35 U.S.C. § 121, between one of the following groups of claims:

I Claims 14-33, drawn to method of forming a cannula, classified in class 264, subclass 305.

II Claim 34, drawn to a cannula, classified in class 128, subclass 207.18.

In order to satisfy the restriction requirement, the Applicant provisionally elects with traverse the invention disclosed in Group I (claims 14-33) and it is requested that, if the restriction requirement is eventually made final, that without further action thereon, claim 34 be retained in this application pending disposition of this case and for possible filing of a divisional application(s).

By way of traverse, the Examiner asserts in the Election/Restriction requirement that the nasal cannula product may be formed by another process other than as recited. However, the Applicant points out that the specific steps of the claimed method are exactly embodied in the product-by-process of claim 34 such that the nasal and oral cannula having a pair of nasal prongs and a mouthpiece as recited in claim 34 can only be made by the same process as recited in claim 14. Therefore, the apparatus of claim 34 cannot be made by a materially different process other than as recited in the elected claims 14-33, and therefore claim 34 should be prosecuted along with the elected claims in the same application.

In the event that there are any fee deficiencies or additional fees are payable, please charge the same or credit any overpayment to our Deposit Account (Account No. 04-0213).

Respectfully submitted,
